Persons with Perceptual Disabilities

"Perceptual disability" means a disability that prevents or inhibits a person from reading or hearing a literary, musical, dramatic or artistic work in its original format, and includes a disability resulting from:

- a) severe or total impairment of sight or hearing or the inability to focus or move one's eyes,
- b) the inability to hold or manipulate a book, or
- c) an impairment relating to comprehension. An impairment is defined as any loss or abnormality of psychological, physiological, or anatomical structure or function.

I certify that I am a person with a perceptual disability based on the above definition, found under Chapter C-42 of the Canadian Copyright Act. I understand that the library reserves the right to ask for verification from a competent authority* at any time.
